GONDOLIER.

Allowing Railroads to Obey the Law.

If the government is going to run the railroads of the country, it must run them on business principles or accept the responsibility for general bankruptcy and ruin.
This has come to be pretty well understood at last in government as well as railroad circles.

An illustration of it is the general recognition of the necessity of bringing the Sherman anti-trust law and the interstate commerce law into line with the Sherman harmonic law.

violate the law against combination if they uniformly obey the law regulation rates. If they obey the Sherman law by keeping out of combinations, some of them fall inevitably into violation of some of the various laws regulating rates.

The business of conducting the traffic of the country is so enormous and so complicated that it is simply impossible for railroads to obey the laws regulating charges separately and independently.
They can do so only by combination of competing as well as connecting lines, and the establishment of joint and uniform rates for certain fields of traffic.

This combination to make joint and uniform rates was held by the courts to be in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act some ten years ago. That ruling never has been changed, though every possible effort has been made to soften it. Now it is recognized that the thing to do is to change the Sherman law itself.

The subject comes up freshly in the Southern states, where the railroads are suffering most from loss of earnings and financial weakness, and where the state commissions seem determined to enforce the letter of both the rate law and the anti-trust law.

Examination of conditions in Texas and in the territory of the Southern railway has completely convinced the interstate commission that the only salvation of the railroads is the power to make joint rates under supervision. A strong effort will be made to give them this power at the next session of congress.

Brains and Beauty.

Misses Falay Long, the Hazel
Green milliner, and Miss Nancy Sample, the assistant, yesterday two of the most lovely and lovable young ladies in this community—aye, two who will compare with any couple from center to circumference of this grand old commonwealth—left Wednesday to attend the Blue Grass fair at Lexington after which they will visit relatives and friends at Frankfort and in Franklin county. They go as a bachelor team, without chaperone, dollars to doughnuts but with guarding of Kentucky will protect government ought, word and deed.

Simply because they are not gifted in gossip, nor do they sanction slander. How different from the frivolous flirt that occasionally bobs up. But to their credit be it said, most of our girls are endowed with both brains and beauty.—Hazel Green Herald.

Morg.

Rev. J. B. Finchum, accompanied by his wife, filled his appointment at Rose Bend church in Wolfe county Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cashman entertained at their home Sunday.
Those fortunate enough to be present were: Mr. and Mrs. DurNe'll, of Dayton, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs.
Tomlin and family, and Miss Edna Williams. They all report a day very delightfully spent.

Algin Derickson made a business trip to Holly, Sunday.

The Sunday school convention held at this place the seventeenth, was quite a success. Bro. Summers, of Jackson, delivered a very interesting address in the afternoon. In the evening the subject, "Child," was very ably discussed by Bro. W. J. Vaughan; interesting talks were also given by Revs.
Derthick and Finchum.

Our school is progressing nicely under the management of Miss Edna Williams, her enrollment being near seventy; and interest is increasing with both parents and pupils.
